

Dear Friends and Family,

I'm participating in the Seattle Brain Cancer Walk benefiting the Center for Advanced Brain Tumor Treatment at the Swedish Neuroscience Institute and I'm asking for your support.

Thanks to generous underwriting by Swedish Medical Center, every dollar raised supports the Center for Advanced Brain Tumor Treatment. Through groundbreaking research, personalized treatment plans and patient-centered care, the Center for Advanced Brain Tumor Treatment is improving outcomes for patients and working toward a cure for brain cancer.

Please consider making a donation to sponsor me as I walk in support of this important cause. My personal fundraising goal is $500 - just $25 from you can help me reach this goal. I have included a donation form for you to return to me. If you would like to join me on May 30th, or want to learn more about the Seattle Brain Cancer Walk, please visit www.braincancerwalk.org.

I hope I can count on your support for the 2009 Seattle Brain Cancer Walk! Together, we can make a difference for brain cancer patients and their families.

Thank you for your support!
